Wahnfried Gardens

L. J. GERMANN

VAN WERT, OHIO

FESTIVA MAXIMA

"Die when we may—
I want said of me,
By those who knew me best,
That I always plucked a thistle—and planted a flower
When I thought a flower would grow."
—Lincoln.

FOREWORD

Wahnfried Gardens are the oldest Peona Gardens in Van Wert. It has been twenty six years since we planted our first Peona roots, and since that time we have added the new and choice introductions until at present our collection embraces nearly all the world's best. We are located on South Washington and Elm Streets, due South from the Public Square in the Seventh Block. Visitors are always welcome.

ARRANGEMENT OF VARIETIES.

We have arranged the different varieties in alphabetical order, giving a description of each. The figures at the left indicate their ratings, as established by the Symposium of the American Peona Society on a basis of 10 as perfect. Where no rating is indicated, the variety has not yet been rated.

SIZE OF ROOTS

The prices quoted are for roots of standard size. Every root will carry at least two eyes and as many more as a strong root requires. Every root is guaranteed true to name. Each plant has my personal attention. If an error should occur the same is cheerfully rectified.

SUBSTITUTIONS

W do not substitute unless instructed to do so.

SHIPPING DATES

We begin to ship Peonies about the first week in September, and continue until the ground freezes. The Fall is the best time to plant.

Had I My Choice

By Elsie V. H. Baldwin

Had I my choice, these are the things I'd ask; A little leisure for a well-loved task; A quiet hill, where Space unfolds her wings And winds are fresh and breathe of far off things, Where winter snows fall crisply on the sod,

White and unspoiled just as they came from God. Where summer heat descends with Life, not Death, Because untainted by the city's breath; A little house where friends may come and sit; An open gate whereon this motto's writ:

"Good friend, behold beneath these trees A Gate that loves a Guest; Here he who walks may wait at ease And he who runs may rest!" Go to the city, watch the faces gaunt; Is this so great a thing for man to want?

Oriental Poppies

FINEST IN THE WORLD

"Eclipsing with its gorgeousness the lily and the rose,

The Oriental poppy in my quiet garden grows.

A brazen beauty of the East from some zenana strayed,

In scarlet silk and sable fringe most stunningly arrayed."

Oriental Poppies are the regal representatives of this popular genus growing 3 to 4 feet high, and far surpassing in splendor of bloom all the annual and biennial kinds. For georgous display of rich and brilliant coloring nothing equals them during their flowering season in May and June. They can be planted singly or in masses, and their large flowers and freedom of bloom render them conspicuous in any position. They begin to bloom after the passing of the tulips and other early Spring bulbs, and make a royal leader for that triple succession—the Iris, the Peona and the Rose. They are easy of culture and every garden should possess a collection of these beautiful Poppies.

Phlox

Phlox Decussata (Hardy Phlox)

Perennial Phlox succeeds in almost any soil that has been thoroughly fertilized. In hot dry weather they must be given a good soaking of water. If the first spikes of bloom are removed after blooming they will produce another supply finer than the first. We have a very fine collection of this Perennial including the following varieties: Elizabeth Campbell, R. P. Struthers, Rheinlander, Europa, Mrs. Jenkins, Ethel Pritchard, Imperator and many others.

Mixed varieties from the above collection, Dozen, $4.00. Field grown clumps.

Hemerocalis (Yellow Day Lily)

Flava—Lemon Lily. Sweet scented, clear, full yellow. Lovely tall grass like foliage. Grows about 2 to 3 feet high. Blooms in June.
